Laugh Convulsions! You said it! Whimsical, delightful booging! You said it! He was The Peanut King! And what a nut! You never saw anything like it before! It's new—you bet! And it's there—you bet! And the boy eats peanuts! And how! Everybody eats peanuts—He makes them eat them! He makes them like it! And he gets a laugh out of every peanut!
This simple country lad who slicked the city slickers!

Vegetables grown in the district are prominent in the stores this summer, a change that is acceptable to everybody, as the home product reaches the consumer in much better shape than the imported kind. If an estimate could be made of the saving that will result from the magnificent gardens to be found everywhere in this vicinity, the figures would prove astounding to everyone. The satisfaction of having vegetables fresh from the garden is beyond even estimation.

Del Ryan Loses Life By Falling From Car

One of the most distressing accidents, the effects of which cast a decided gloom over Champion, occurred at Kingsgate, on Sunday, when Del, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ryan, fell from the back of the car in which the family was making a holiday trip and was instantly killed, his head being crushed. The sympathy of the entire community will go out to the bereaved parents who are prostrated with grief, the suddenness of their loss and the surrounding circumstances being heartrending. Mr. and Mrs.
Ryan are accompanying the body to Thorold, Ont., where interment will take place.

Mrs. H. E. Smith Dies Suddenly

The death occurred on Wednesday afternoon of Mrs.
Howard E. Smith in her 57th year. Mrs. Smith has been in poor health for over a year past, and little hope of her ultimate recovery was held out but her death came as a shock to her family and many friends.
Funeral services are announced to take place at the family residence at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, after which the body will be sent to Verquas, Wisconsin, for interment. An obituary notice is held over until next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Groves Guests of Honor

On Monday, August 15th, a reception for Mr. and Mrs.
James Groves was held at the residence of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Groves, some sixty guests taking part in the welcome to the newlyweds. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the popularity of the young couple was amply testified by the very numerous and costly gifts they received. In addition to the large attendance of local friends and relatives the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Barum of Claresholm, the Misses Williams of Calgary and Mr.
Gross of Drumheller. The Chronicle wishes to join in the general congratulations.

THURSDAY, AUG. 25, 1927

The state of Montana will now share with the province of Alberta the honor of being the gateway to the Great Northwest, land of allurement and of peace, more commonly known as the Peace River country. This was assured at the annual convention of the Alberta Montana Highway Association in Edmonton on August 9th, when a large and distinctive gathering of delegates from Montana joined with their colleagues of Alberta and voted to extend the Sunshine Trail from Edmonton to Peace River, a distance of approximately 400 miles. The present southern terminus of the Sunshine Trail is at Butte, Montana, hence being voted at the convention, the route may soon be extended to Los Angeles in southern California thus providing a truly international highway north and south across the prairies and mountains of the west. Not only did the convention enthusiastically support the extension of the Sunshine Trail to Peace River, but a resolution was passed urging the Alberta government to complete the Peace River road by the first of October this year.—Good Roads Magazine.

Tar Sand Tests

Two months ago it was remarked in these columns that practical tests on the McMurtry tar sands for road surfacing were to be carried out by the provincial government buildings in Edmonton. The work has been completed under the capable direction of Mr. Thomas Draper, pioneer in northern Alberta asphaltic development and the result is a pavement of surpassing excellence. A circular drive to the rear of the parliament buildings has been hard surfaced with the tar sands, not the most favorable spot as a "show-place" for the experimental roadway but sufficient to give a first hand example to the outside world of the exceptional qualities of the northern asphalt for highway purposes. Those who witnessed the new pavement are generally agreed that the surfacing should be carried round the front of the parliament buildings as soon as possible, not only to meet every day traffic demands but to present the great natural resource of the province in a more conspicuous place. For twenty years while the world has been clamoring for highway material of this nature Alberta has been boasting of the tar sands resources of the north. Practical tests of this year character, rather than boasts, are needed to take the bumps out of Alberta roads.

In the past week in Toronto a gang of 17 men have been busily engaged in digging up the graves and removing the coffins of Orientals who have been buried in Mount Pleasant cemetery. In a tent in one corner of the cemetery a group of Chinamen are engaged in removing the bones from the coffins and preparing them for shipment for China. It is estimated that there are 322 Chinamen buried in the cemetery, but only 137 will be shipped to the Orient for burial. The others will not be shipped until a lapse of seven years. It has been a practice of the celestial to ship the remains of their fellow countrymen to China for burial every seven years, but owing to the war the shipments were stopped. The crew engaged in removing the bones from the coffins, use brushes and water to clean the remains, which are then placed in white canvas bags like damage bags, and tagged ready for shipment.

Safe Driving

1. Learn your Signals and make them carefully.
2. It is dangerous to take your rights; wait for the other fellow to give them to you.
3. There is danger in speeding up when a car passes you from behind. Moreover, it's forbidden by the law.
4. Get your car entirely off the road if possible, when stopping.
5. Consider as a possible death trap every overloaded, slowly moving truck that takes the middle of the road, instead of one side.
6. Consider as a possible death trap every roadside refreshment stand or filling station where cars stop in the road.
7. Worn tires, especially on the front wheels, are exceedingly dangerous to yourself and others.
8. Your brakes are not safe unless they will hold your car on any hill you car can climb.
9. Know how to brake your car on the engine when going up and down steep hills.
10. Too much play in your steering wheel is dangerous.
11. A spotlight on the right side of your car or dazzling lenses are dangerous.
12. Remember that overloaded trucks have overloaded brakes, which cannot be efficient.
13. Keep your car locked and out of the hands of joy-riders.
14. Remember that selfishness and greed in a competent driver may be even more dangerous than the inexperience of incompetent drivers.
15. Follow the rule that it is not speed so much as recklessness that causes accidents.
16. Remember that many grade crossing accidents are caused by drivers who, in excitement of peril, stall their engines.

ED. DALSIN

Would Banish All Wars By Interesting The Public In The Cause Of Internationalism

"Internationalism through education" was the theme of an eloquent address to the second biennial conference of the World Federation of Education Associations, held at the University of Toronto, by Raphael Herman, of Hollywood, Cal. Mr. Herman has devoted years of his life and a large portion of his fortune to the cause of internationalism.

After expressing his confidence as a layman before professionals, Mr. Herman congratulated the federation on having selected Canada as its meeting place. The 2,000 mile length of unopposed frontier between Canada and the United States spoke volumes for the actual possibility of neighboring nations continuing to live in peace with each other.

"May I be permitted to state to the outset that I am neither nationalist nor pacifist," opened his address. "I am an 'internationalist,' that is, one who loves his own country with devotion, but is convinced that patriotism does not lie only in a selfishness to the life of one's country, but also to live for it. As such, I also to plead the cause of world peace through education, the only practical means of solving the problems which face humanity. I come to plead to the educators of the coming generation, by whom alone the peace can be brought about—in whose hands lie the peace and the destinies of the human race."

"The modern conception of internationalism is not based on the extinction of national individuality. It is founded on the principle of the creation and the preservation of harmony in the midst of difference, such as is achieved in a mosaic, where each piece may contrast with the other, and contributes to the beauty of the whole intricate pattern. Nationalism and internationalism are not mutually exclusive. Each is necessary to the other for the complete life, and each should amount to a passion and as such be accepted as a normal manifestation of human nature."

"Political thinkers, philosophers and economists have recognized the principle that for the satisfaction of many of its own problems, the nation depends on others. The complex of nations includes an intense desire for the development of national individuality and all that it implies in the direction of cultural and political ideals. This is a biological, psychological and psychological fact. If forces recognition of the equality—that nations in their dealings with each other are guided by a sense of internationalism such as I have defined, they will fall short of their own ideals and the development of the highest form of existence possible."

"It is urged that training for war is easy because it is so simple to do, whereas training for peace is impossible because it is contrary to nature. We need point to the United States and Canada, where peace is possible everywhere and with its appearance elsewhere the world's problems would, in a large measure, soon be solved."

"It was absolutely essential that the young should be taught history accurately and without bias," Mr. Herman declared.

"Youth should be impressed with the idea that truth must be made subservient to a desire to enforce a personal viewpoint."

"History should tell the great advantages of peace over war. Peace and not war, peace with the good beneficial life is the great and only achievement worth the while, which will lead to thoughts of friendliness and goodwill and things which make for the genuine progress and happiness of the world."

"History should not be taught to little children because things must be brought down to a child's level to make it understandable to them."

Mr. Herman suggested his contention by quotations from Premier Stanley Baldwin, Premier Ireland, Foreign Minister Stresemann, and other statesmen.

"We have many colleges and excellent textbooks on military science," continued the speaker. "In schools are taught the horrors of war and its heroes, like Caesar, Napoleon and Moltke; and we are taught to admire deeds which we could condemn if it were in the ordinary walk of life."

"But we do not have a single school for peace. Just this, which is not a single association that could be called the pioneer of a great peace empire in which we could discuss the mutual comprehension and charity subject that become distorted and confused in the turbid atmosphere of the street. We must therefore begin with the educational and recreational aspects of peace and have schools of peace like those of war, which will lead directly towards the goal which is not less than the establishment of the Kingdom of God on earth."

Alberta's Honey Industry

Production This Year Will Be Worth $100,000, Is Estimated

Quite a number of apiaries have been established in the irrigated districts around Lethbridge and are enjoying good returns from the alfalfa and sweet clover blossoms. One of the largest of these apiaries is at Cold Lake, where there is an extensive alfalfa plant capable of handling more than four tons of honey daily. Altogether there are 1,300 colonies at Cold Lake and 400 at Lethbridge. One carload of honey has been shipped this season to Calgary and another to Edmonton. Warm weather and a wealth of sweet clover and alfalfa blossoms in the irrigated districts are combining to give the bee men the best harvest in years, and if the weather remains fine the total production of the province is thought more than 200 tons of honey will be produced in Southern Alberta. As honey is worth in the neighborhood of $200 a ton, the total crop promises to be worth in the neighborhood of $100,000.

At the midland headquarters the honey from the 45-frame extractor is pumped into two huge tanks in the packing department, and there placed in the containers for shipment.

Prisoners Summoned By Wireless
A notice was used for the first time in England recently to summon land fire engines to a burning ship near port. With her hold ablaze, the steamer "Patriotic" in route from Belfast, redoubled for the Liverpool fire forces and then made a dash for shore. The waiting fire brigades, after an hour's battle with the flames, saved the Patriotic's valuable cargo of cloth and hemp twine.

New Coal Product

Cheaper Than Oil Says Agent Of English Firm

H. A. Bradstreet, of London, who arrived in New York recently on the Bernadotte, represents the Shell Oil Corporation of England, which is the owner of a newly patented reducing process for coal that leaves a residue which, when pulverized, can be used, he said, in ships and locomotives.

"The whole secret of this unbelieved-of the product," he explained, "is plain," said Mr. Bradstreet. "The coal is put into a big retort similar to a cement kiln, and while the retort rotates the hot, inert gases make the coal yield up the volatiles from which the products are obtained. The residue left, he said, is a clean, white, can be handled with safety."

"We gave a demonstration on July 12 for the British Institute of Naval Architects at Cambridge University, at which representatives of the United States Shipping Board and the Navy were present. As a result of the demonstration I am in New York."

"Oil is too expensive as a fuel, as large shipping companies in England and America have learned. They are now turning to pulverized coal that will flow as easily as oil, and will give almost the same amount of heat from one-fifth to one-sixth the cost."

Poultry Congress Great Success

Exceeded The Most sanguine Expectations Of Promoters

The Third World's Poultry Congress which was held in Ottawa from July 27 to August 4 was a greater success in every way than its most sanguine promoters expected. Forty-two countries sent delegates and the live birds on exhibition totaled nearly 10,000. There were birds from the poultry farms of King George V., of Britain, the Prince of Wales, and from the farms of other reigning monarchs in Europe. The United States was represented by a very large and attractive exhibit which indicated the progress that poultry raising has made in North America. Several thousand delegates and visitors from the United States attended the Congress and took an active part in the sessions of the Congress.

Progress In Agricultural Methods

Unprecedented Demand For Farming Machinery Is Noted This Year

The outstanding trait of Western Canadian agriculture is its ceaseless progression. Western Canadian farmers are always ready to adopt the latest and best methods of operation are steadily being improved. In particular the advance in the adoption of mechanical devices and the general utilization of machinery to facilitate farming operations and reduce manual effort has been striking. Today the profession of farming in Western Canada depends not so much on physical strength as a practical administrative sense and a working mechanical knowledge. Manual labor requirements are steadily being reduced to a minimum, and the Western Canadian farmer is becoming more and more the operator of a machine.

According to reports from frontier observers in Western Canada, the spring of this year revealed two very marked trends in the agricultural industry of this territory, one being the greater "motorizing" of the large dry land farms and the other a marked increase in the favor and probable utilization of the combined harrow-tractor. Dealers in the territory report an unprecedented demand for the light farm tractor and a tremendous increase in orders for combines. Tractors have been steadily delivered at farms as they were received from the factory, while, according to one estimate, the number of combines which will be used in Saskatchewan and Alberta this fall will be one thousand machines as against with 775 in use last year—Rogers Leader.

At the midland headquarters the honey from the 45-frame extractor is pumped into two huge tanks in the packing department, and there placed in the containers for shipment.

Snout Infected Feed

A Risk Is Run By Giving Livestock Contaminated Grain

Although much-spread infested grain is not so dangerous to livestock as is sometimes believed, there is no doubt that feed contaminated with snout is unwholesome. Although the danger is not altogether clear, farmers are advised, in a Dominion Department of Agriculture bulletin on snout disease, to cultivate plants, not to run risks by giving animals such feed.

In an extensive investigation with all the ordinary farm animals there were no instances of definite sickness brought about by the eating of snout contaminated feed, but the frequent occurrence of minor disturbances showed that such feed should not be generally used. When snout is present in a crop which is fed to the stock it may cause irritation and congestion and a number of fatalities among cattle from this cause have been reported.

The United States takes 35,000 tons of poultice every year. No statistics are available as to other parts produced.

Increasing Attention Paid By Authorities To Protection Of The Health Of The Public

Do Hens Need Open Runs

Confined In Pens Or Allowed To Run In The Open, Advantages Are About Equal

For five years the Department has been under way at the Agricultural Experimental Farm to find out whether or not laying hens do better confined in pens or allowed their freedom in the open. The report of the station for last year giving the results of this experiment and the results with live stock, birds, crops, gardening, and other experiments, is available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Barred Plymouth Rocks comprising ten pullets in each pen have been used from 1915 to 1919. The results for the five years show that the advantages are not great either way. The birds confined to their pens gave an egg yield of 189 per bird, while those on open range, there was but one cent per bird difference in the cost of feeding, which amounted to $277 for the confined birds, and $142 for those on range. There was but one cent per bird difference in the cost of feeding, which amounted to $277 for the confined birds, and $142 for those on range. The birds fed on equal parts of wheat, corn, and ground oats, with a mash containing a weight of 100 pounds each of bran, shorts, corn meal, and crushed oats, and 25 pounds of alfalfa and two pounds of charcoal.

At the midland headquarters the honey from the 45-frame extractor is pumped into two huge tanks in the packing department, and there placed in the containers for shipment.

Japan's Seaweed Crop

Is Grown Especially For Food and Carefully Cultivated

Japanese soldiers do not give much thought to the Quartermaster's Department. In the field they are capable of great endurance on a diet of rice, dried fish, dried vegetables, and pickled plants. The seaweed is wrapped round the rice, as a "relief" to it. Given a dry fire, a soldier, and the ration mentioned, they are perfectly content, whatever the weather and however long the march.

Seaweed is grown especially for food purposes, being cultivated with as much care as any other crop. After the typhoon season, the women are seen bearing great loads of young trees which have been stripped of their leaves and the roots and branches are left intact. These are drawn into the weed on the shore, acres of brushy saplings being arranged in long, parallel rows where the tide ebbs over them twice daily.

Gradually the green fern-like weed collects on the branches, and when there are three small plants the harvest it is then carefully picked over and dried for future use.

An Absent-Minded Shopper

Woman in London Store Walks Through Plate Glass Window

A woman shopper absent-mindedly walked through a plate glass window at Fiskestone recently. The woman had made a purchase at a drapery shop and was preparing to leave. At the time the back of one of the large windows was open, ready for dressing.

The customer unconsciously walked up the step leading into the window and then across the empty window floor into the plate glass window, measuring 14 by 12 feet.

The window was shattered, but the customer escaped unhurt.

When asked for an explanation she said she must have been thinking of something else.

Carters Should See West

Carters in the city of Montreal, West. They have no idea of the marvelous scenic beauty, or of western progress. In the opinion of Lady Rodcliff, Montreal, who has been on a seven-week tour of the west and Alaska—her first trip west of the Great Lakes. Marvelling at the mountains, she was yet most enthusiastic over the prairies, and the size of prairie towns she found astonishing.

Will Raise Sheep

The Earl of Minto has recently been selling his pure-bred cattle in order to devote his attention to sheep raising. There are already 1,500 sheep on his Alberta ranch and more will be added from time to time.

A lion performing in a circus act is worth about $2,000. Training lions, bears and leopards all are valued at about that amount.

He who has everything he wants usually also has a job lot of things that he doesn't want.

One of the most essential duties of a government is the proper protection of the health of its people. This thought became so forcible in its demand for action that a Department of Health was formed in Ottawa in 1919. Its primary functions being derived from other departmental branches concerned with health matters.

Since its inception the scope of the department has gradually increased, and now in Canada's Jubilee year, we find strong concentrated effort working for the welfare of Canadians through the medium of the Health Department.

The Quarantine Service of a country stands for protection against the introduction and spread of contagious diseases. In this connection there are in operation five large completely equipped quarantine stations. Every officer here is a sub-station.

A medical inspection of immigrants is carried on at all ports of arrival and immigrants naturally and physically unfit are prohibited from entry.

Prior to the inauguration of a health plan for the care of all who are sick or injured while on board ship, it was the practice of many vessels to land sailors at the next port and sail away, leaving them to charge on the community. To overcome this difficulty a law is now being passed according to which, on all ships arriving at Maritime ports, the Canadian Government assumes the care of all sick and injured sailors arriving at port of entry.

The suppression and control of the narcotic drug traffic has a world-wide significance and Canada, through its department of health, is doing its part in the work accomplished. Approximately 250 pounds of opium, 250 ounces of heroin, and 125 ounces of cocaine were seized in Canada during the past year. No less than 348 persons were reported from Canada after conviction for various offences under the Act.

The problem of patent medicines has for many years been a difficult one in all countries where efforts were made to standardize and control their production. Within the last few years the number of these preparations on the market under license in Canada has been reduced from approximately 1,000 to 127. All preparations for which exaggerated claims are made, or those of foolish or harmful composition have been excluded.

Splendid work is being accomplished in the Child Welfare department. The control of child labor, the problem of maternal mortality, shortly. The importance of this question will be brought before the physicians and the Canadian public. Publications dealing with this subject and with Child Welfare have been issued by the department.

The adulteration of food has been a prolific source of fraud for centuries. The food and drug laboratory of the department examines and analyzes all samples of food products every year in its endeavor to give the consumer the widest selection of pure and safe products, as printed on the label.

Owing to the fact that the traffic on the Great Lakes and other inland waters of Canada has increased with the population, the waters of the lakes become correspondingly polluted and unsafe for human consumption. This is particularly true in the harbors and at the shore line. All vessels are now inspected and must carry pure water for the use of the passengers and crew.

Degradations Of Rabbits

Residents In The Harbor district

Residents in the Harbor district near the city of Montreal, Quebec, are suffering from a general shortage of rabbits this fall. If they again succumb their depredations to the depredations of the rabbits, the residents of the harbor district will be in a bad way when the rabbits are in the bush when food is scarce and are up and ready to eat the grain in stock on the Great Lakes. Marvelling at the mountains, she was yet most enthusiastic over the prairies, and the size of prairie towns she found astonishing.

Report Is Denied

Officials of the Canadian Government

Merchant Marine denied the report that the C.M.G. would establish a regular steamship service between Vancouver and the West Coast of Mexico and South America. It was understood at the local office that the report was unfounded. The service, however, it will not be operated by the merchant marine.

Prince and Baldwin at Ease

This study of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and Premier Baldwin of Great Britain, was taken on the deck of the Canadian Pacific liner "Kensington" August 2, 1919.

The Prince and the Premier had found a sunny spot at one end of the deck and were enjoying their first good glimpse of the Atlantic Capital.

Contrasting to the peacefulness of this scene, the great seas from the Orford loomed their welcome while thousands of people cheered incessantly from the gaily bedecked decks and shore line.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

London now has a telephone connection with Stockholm, Sweden.

J. Olsen Armour, head of the great packing industry bearing his name, died in London following a six weeks' illness with typhoid fever. He would have been 61 years old in November.

Great Britain and Jugo-Slavia have signed a debt funding agreement whereby the Jugo-Slavian debt of $127,260,000 will be paid in 42 annuities beginning this year.

The eightieth birthday of President Hindenburg is to be commemorated by the issue of stamps sold at slightly higher rates than the face value and the profits to be devoted to charities.

Only about 5,000 people are participating in the rush to the new diamond field at Witwatersrand, Transvaal, compared with 25,000 in the recent rush to Graaf-Reinet, according to the Daily Mail's Johannesburg correspondent.

A remarkable yield in fall wheat is reported from Markham Township, Ontario, on the farm of Deputy Reeve R. L. St. John, who has recently harvested 30 bushels of wheat from the Dawson Golden Chaff variety from less than 12 acres of land.

Sixteen deaths from pneumonia are reported to have occurred during an epidemic on the British steamer St. Paul, carrying 300 immigrants from Trinidad to Calcutta. An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Capetown says:

The name London has been approved for a chain of islands at the entrance to Cumberland Sound, Baffin Island, Franklin district, North-west Territories, Canada. The name was named after the Hon. Joseph Lemieux, the Speaker of the House of Commons, Canada.

Sasha (Daggy) Hall, Santa Anna aviator, has confirmed reports that she was negotiating with J. F. Shay, of New York, said to represent a New York newspaper, for financial backing for a transatlantic flight in which she would be the first woman to pilot a plane in the ocean.

Surveys of a road route between Prince George and the boundary of Alberta, have been ordered by the public works department in the belief that this highway, as well as a road up the North Thompson river, will be needed at some time to accommodate growing trade.

How Icebergs Are Destroyed

Melted Off Using Thermite Is Found

Highly successful.

An iceberg of almost indescribable beauty, 500 feet long, with a hullow in the center 50 feet in depth, having sides of porcelain white, and containing an emerald-green lake 4 feet deep, was encountered by a recent iceberg demolishing party.

Armed with ropes, ice picks, axes, drills, and canisters containing thermite, they were trying a highly successful method of destroying icebergs that endanger the trade routes of the North Atlantic.

On landing, the party drilled holes into the ice and inserted the chemical charge, which is fired by fuses. Thermite develops tremendous heat at a great rate, reaching as high as 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit, in a few hours the largest iceberg cracks and disintegrates with a noise resembling an earthquake.

Storms Make Atlantic

Passage Formidable

Competent Ocean Weather Bureau and Suitable Plans Will Overcome Trouble

It is not distance but storms that make the Atlantic passage formidable. It will cease to be so when ships, heavier or lighter than air, are built specially for such a service, and a competent ocean weather bureau is established. Navigating skill in the air will assist largely in avoiding storms. Great Britain is completing a dirigible that will be used for voyages between England and Canada in 1925. A sister ship is to furnish a service to India and Australia. The presumption is that the sea will be crossed in a comparatively few years by multi-motored airplanes carrying express matter and passengers.

Old Age Pension Scheme

An old age pension scheme will shortly be put into effect in British Columbia and the Yukon, the necessary provincial legislation having been passed. It is stated by Hon. Peter Freeman, minister of labor.

Tribute To Mr. Baldwin

Is a Patriot in the Best Sense of the Word

A very prominent man, not of Mr. Baldwin's political faith, remarked last year that the Prime Minister of Great Britain never stood out as great a figure as in the closing days of the General Strike, and that his greatness of character nobly revealed itself by his magnanimous appeal when the fight was won. His words regarding the working men of the country in his recent address to the Ottawa Canadian Club might almost be changed to the high-spirited, sane, and generous man, patriot in the best sense of that hard-earned word.

A century of a year's activities gives a glimpse of what is being done to prevent undesirable complications and to maintain equality and honest marketing of our food supplies, apart from agricultural inspection at production centres. Twenty-six houses of food and drink on duty throughout Canada and laboratories were opened at Ottawa, Halifax, Montreal, Winnipeg and Vancouver, in all over 100 samples of food and drugs were examined. Many of these were from import shipments, others from Canadian sources, and still others taken direct from factories.

A wide range of foods is covered by these investigations and a check was kept on the various brands marketed. Special attention was paid to inspection of import shipments of meat, poultry, and fish. The Canadian market, which must never become a dumping ground for the refuse of other nations, was protected from inferior consignments of the most varied nature, including food feeds, package soups, voracy and condiments, and tomato paste, beans, and tinned oranges.

Food is not destroyed unless carefully utilizable. It is impossible. Destruction was found necessary for the disposal of certain samples of deteriorated baking powder (17 years old), nuts (mouldy and wormy), oranges (rotted and spoiled), dried apples (mouldy and wormy).

Thirty-six thousands arising from adulteration of meats (including Hamburg steak and sausage), maple syrup, maple butter, molasses, candy and jams, were included only after the objectionable practices were found to be wilful and persistent. In many cases breaches of the law were committed through lack of knowledge, but the damage done is not extensive although it can be easily remedied; matters would ultimately assume a serious aspect if it were not for the preventive action of this service.

The first successful airplane flight was made at Kitty Hawk, N.C., December 17, 1903. Wilbur and Orville Wright made four flights that day, the longest lasting 29 seconds.

"William," I hear that you blooded ten boys that last night."

Glady's—Yes, ten—all told."

The Line To Fort Churchill

No Engineering Difficulties Will Be Encountered In Laying Out

It is expected that the railway to Fort Churchill will be completed in the summer of 1925. As C. G. Gowsick, chief engineer of the construction department of the Canadian National Railway, who has been charged by the Dominion Government with the rehabilitation and further extension of the Hudson Bay railway.

Mr. Gowsick said: "At Churchill there will be no difficulty in establishing railroad terminals for any reasonable capacity required at a relatively small cost, the land being generally flat for a considerable width, giving a wide choice of location. The 10 miles of railroad construction to complete the line is generally very similar to the present H. B. railway. Some indications that make the route very favorable for the construction of a railway in 1925. No bridges of considerable length are required. The proximity to various communities and rivers makes proper drainage to the north."

A Lucky Fisherman

A lump of ambergris worth $12,000 has been found 15 miles off shore by a schooner, the "Lucky Fisherman," which was attracted to the spot by observing a flock of seals leaping over the water, indicating a substance of the consistency of wax. It originates as a morbid secretion in the body of the sperm whale. It is highly valued in perfumery.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 28

NATHAN LEADS DAVID TO REPENTANCE

Golden Text: "A broken and a contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise." Psalm 51:17.

Lesson: 2 Samuel 11:1 to 12:25.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 102:1-7.

Explanations and Comments

1. Nathan is a noble, virtuous man. Several months have passed since David ordered the murder of Uriah and took to himself the latter's wife. Now the prophet Nathan has come, and in a graphic way, by means of a parable, he brings home to David the enormity of his sin.

There were two men in one city. One of them was rich, having acquired many flocks and herds; the other was poor, having only a single ewe lamb. Nathan adds one of his own flocks and herds; the other was poor, having only a single ewe lamb. Nathan adds one of his own flocks and herds; the other was poor, having only a single ewe lamb. Nathan adds one of his own flocks and herds; the other was poor, having only a single ewe lamb.

As the Philistine, record officer, if the people who are blind to their own faults only condemn it, that is business the realist would have said.

David, verses 5, 6. David's sin is not a sin of omission, but a sin of commission. He had brought a case to him to judge. His sin is greatly kindled against the rich man, who is in this decision in the matter, the rich man deserves death. He who had no pity and did not feel a need shall require four lambs for the one (see Psalm 22:1).

The first thing that strikes the eye is the fact that Nathan is a man to have raised the application of the parable. It seems an almost impossible feat of self-reckoning which could let him draw out an indictment in such a manner as to make it so much as even death that the case could apply to him. This is not such an impossible thing as it looks; may it be even one of the commonest facts of life. It is a fact that is easily illustrated any day among ourselves, and it is a fact that is a general statement of right and wrong, even an unbiased judgment on common sense that are non-biased, and yet never make the personal application.

Friendship Will Endure

On One Question But Will Never Cease

If any person has been nursing a fear, following the collapse of the naval conference at Ottawa, then the relations between Britain and the United States would not continue friendly, he had a reassuring answer in that great international gathering at the dedication on Sunday of the new peace bridge between Buffalo and Port Erie, Ohio. That bridge, the thousands of people from the two nations gathered to witness the ceremonies and the distinguished men who spoke pronounced to the world that the peace bonds between the two great Anglo-Saxon nations had not been shattered, nor even strained, by the failure of the naval conference to reach an agreement.

The speeches of the Prince of Wales, who visited the Great Britain, the Premier of Canada and the Vice-President of the United States, all breath of forth Anglo-American friendship. Vice-President Dawes, after dealing with the General Issues made this emphatic statement: "The Anglo-American speaking people is founded as firmly as the bedrock which supports the new peace bridge, and that it was based on common interests and ideals." Continuing, he said: "The instinct of self-protection—the most selfish of mankind—binds us together, and a false friendship is the ultimate guarantee of safety and progress of western civilization."

We think that Mr. Dawes hit the nail on the head when he said that peace between the English-speaking peoples was based on common interests and ideals, and that the instinct of self-protection bound the peoples together in a bond that will never break. A friendship based as is enduring as time. Conferences may fail, but such a friendship is unbreakable. There may be momentary resentment but after the smoke of battle—verbal, not physical—has cleared away, the two peoples will realize that the safety and the progress of humanity depends upon their seeking together.

Following the noon after the disagreement at Geneva, the dedication of the new peace bridge was a declaration to the world that Anglo-American friendship is a genuine thing, and that propaganda who seek to separate the two peoples will have their work for nothing.

A Real Menace

Motorists Who Demand Right To Speed Have Driven To Peril

Today there is a great demand for high-powered cars. Speed seems to be the most important thing demanded by the motorist.

The Department of Highways reviewed this case in the year, and in answer to public demand on the part of motorists raised the speed limit on country roads from twenty-five to thirty-five miles an hour. But motorists are not satisfied with the new limit. They are purchasing cars capable of much greater speed, and they are demanding the right to increase the speed limit in their motor.

This is an indication of the present state of the speed age—and there are those who look for an increase in legal speed limit in the years to come. Each year cars are travelling faster on the highways, and with this increased speed the dangers and perils of motor traffic are becoming increasingly greater.

There are some motorists who are gradually giving up the pleasures of a country drive, and who are even refusing to drive their cars in the cities as a result of this tendency on the part of the general public to go faster and faster—Chautau News.

So This Is Chicago

A Canadian in Chicago had his new car and a set of golf clubs stolen at a public golf course. A few days later the culprit was discovered, and a search of his home revealed the car and his clubs. Naturally one would have expected that this discovery would follow. Nothing of the kind.

The Canadian being a lawyer, who advised him to drop proceedings and keep the affair under his hat. It was intended that if he wished to avoid having his name in the papers, he should have his body perforated by a bullet, that was the worst thing to do.

"Young man, does your mother know you smoke?"

"Lady, does your husband know you stop to speak smoke men on the street?"

Failure fails as efficiently as success succeeds.

There are some motorists who are gradually giving up the pleasures of a country drive, and who are even refusing to drive their cars in the cities as a result of this tendency on the part of the general public to go faster and faster—Chautau News.

CRITICISM OF THE POLICY OF EMPIRE MARKET BOARD

Ottawa.—A strong criticism of the Empire Marketing Board by Hon. C. A. Manning, Minister of Railways and Canada and a member of the board, featured the dinner given by the Canadian Government to the visiting members of the British Press Association.

Mr. Manning, who proposed the toast to the guests, said he had not yet been impressed with the fact that the Empire Marketing Board had sold ten for enough away from the old idea—a relic of colonial days—in that it was the business of the colonies and dominions to raise the raw materials to be shipped to the central market to be manufactured and that it was the duty of the colonies and dominions to lay the manufactured articles. Mr. Manning said the idea was good in the old days but no longer held in the days of self-governing dominions. He asked the visitors how many of them would be content to raise the raw materials and develop the natural resources, unless manufactured goods were produced at home, and said he had pleaded with the British manufacturers to transfer to the dominions plants and portions of plants and their artisan centres, rather than to allow others, sometimes outside of the Empire, to gain a control of manufacturing in the dominions, which would be likely to become permanent.

"It is better," he asked, "to face the business that is to be sold, to produce where the business is, and manufacture commodities suitable to the market."

Mr. Manning referred to himself as a living example of what Canada had in store for the British immigrant. He wanted to say, he said, that the ideas treated there determined to adapt and adjust themselves well. The dominion did not want immigrants whose first thought was "What will the Government do for me?" Canada wanted immigrants who were not dependent to lean on the Government but who were willing to support it.

Hon. Fernand Triflet, Secretary of State, presided at the dinner. He welcomed the visiting newsmen on behalf of the Dominion Government.

It will be of great benefit if we practice an interchange of views which will enable us to meet on an equal ground," he said, "referring to relations within the Empire."

John Sidney King, president of the Press Association, referred to Mr. Manning's remarks regarding the Empire Marketing Board and said that work at present was largely in an experimental stage. One function of the board was to teach Canadian producers to pack goods in a manner suitable to the British market.

Canada, he added, was the best of her produce to the British market and it must be delivered in the best possible condition. He foretold great results from the efforts of the board.

Flight Across Prairies

Non-Stop Flight From Winnipeg To High River in Eight Hours

Ottawa.—Eight hours after he left Winnipeg, Flying Officer T. M. Shields of the Royal Canadian Air Force, landed at High River, completing a non-stop flight in which he averaged well over 100 miles per hour during the 360-mile journey. He experienced no trouble during the time that he was in the air.

Distance travelled by Flying Officer Shields en route, about 360 miles. The flight being a distance between Montreal and Vancouver and illustrates the possibilities of aviation in this country. The whole journey was made in a single flight in eight hours without a stop.

The aviation travelled alone and carried enough gasoline for 16 hours' flying at a flight of 130 miles. His plane was a Duff-Dunkard and was tested out here on its suitability for forest patrol work. It is a later type than others at the High River station. During the past few weeks it has been used in Manitoba on spraying grain fields with rust preventive chemicals.

Only One Graduate

Stanton.—A supervisor of the Virginia state board of education recently had to travel 126 miles to address a graduating class composed of one person. He gave the diploma to Miss Ruth Hickman, of Millboro. Had the entire class been duly organized, she would have been president of the class, secretary and treasurer.

Poultrymen Visit Edmonton

Trip Through West Proving Enjoyable and Educational

Edmonton.—Representing 18 different countries, 128 delegates from the World Poultry Congress, recently held at Ottawa, arrived at Edmonton, last month, during a long train journey and after completing a tour of the Maritimes and before returning to the Old Land will cover Canada from coast to coast.

When they get back to Europe again, Canada's story will be told throughout the length and breadth of Great Britain," said John Sidney King, president of the British Poultry Society. "After such a journey as this we can never again regard belonging to the home of Canada as an every opportunity. Before we left, Canada to many of us, was just a name, but now it is a reality."

A story of road crops all across Canada is told by the Ontario minister, in his own province, the fruit fields are only fair, but grain and other crops are excellent, with a particularly noticeable increase in the acreage under tobacco, he said.

Mr. Martin was greatly struck by the appearance of the wheat fields along the railway between Saskatoon and Edmonton and liked the manner following that he saw there and other where in the West. The whole trip through the West is proving both an education and a pleasure to the only to the members of the touring party who came from other countries but to Canadians, like himself, who are accompanying them.

Harvest Help Arriving

Large Quota From Eastern Canada and British Columbia

Winnipeg.—The great tide of harvesters will soon be flowing over the prairies. Arrangements have been completed for the handling of the harvest which will come from Eastern Canada, according to officials of the Canadian National Railways, and there will be no delay in getting them to the prairies. They are most needed, British Columbia, which will send 6,000 this year, already has its movement, by being cut away from Vancouver and fifty from Victoria, and others will follow closely on their heels.

Each Canadian will contribute 25,000 men to the harvest this year, it is estimated. Manitoba needs 8,000, and can get 6,000 locally; Saskatchewan asks for 40,000 of which half are available locally, and Alberta needs 35,000 of which 8,000 must come from outside the province. British Columbia has 8,000 available.

Turk Monument At Gallipoli

Turkish Government To Erect Memorial To Countrymen Who Perished in War

Gallipoli, Turkey.—The Turkish government is to erect a memorial on the Gallipoli peninsula to the Turkish soldiers who perished in the Great War campaign there.

According to a member of the Constantinople press, it will be of such proportions "that it will make existing monuments erected by the Allies seem by no means insignificant in the light of it."

It will be 122 feet high and 126,000 already has been appropriated by its construction.

Norwegian Emigrants

Coming To Canada

Quota For U.S. Is Limited and Dominion Benefits

St. Paul, Minn.—Canada is getting the emigrants of Norway, Christian Anderson, an employee of the University of Minnesota agricultural school here, stated on his return from a visit to his native land.

"Under the immigration law of the United States, the Norwegian quota is only a fraction of the number that would like to come here," Anderson said.

"Canada has been quick to see the point," he said, "and has opened its doors."

Bear Wrecks Sedan

Ashtabula, Wash.—A wild party in Baiter National Park returned to their parked car after a short hike and found a large bear clambering onto the top. The top of the sedan gave way under the animal's weight and let it down into the tundra, where it smashed its way to freedom. All of the car except the chassis was demolished.

Forest Fires In Buffalo Reserve

Edmonton.—Fire rangers have been ordered to the Buffalo reserve near Fort Smith where a fire has been started. It is said to be blinding. The herds of wood and plains buffalo maintained there by the Dominion Government face a keen winter if the acres of wild fire are destroyed.

Editors Touring Canada

British Party Will Cover Dominion From Coast To Coast

Montreal.—British newspaper editors and editors to the number of the members of the party which is touring Canada, arrived in Montreal from Quebec after completing a tour of the Maritimes and before returning to the Old Land will cover Canada from coast to coast.

"When we get back to Europe again, Canada's story will be told throughout the length and breadth of Great Britain," said John Sidney King, president of the British Poultry Society. "After such a journey as this we can never again regard belonging to the home of Canada as an every opportunity. Before we left, Canada to many of us, was just a name, but now it is a reality."

HOW JOHN JINKS SAVED LIFE OF COSGRAVE GOVT.

Dublin, John Jinks, who made life a household one in Ireland by walking out of the Dull and saving the life of the Cosgrave Government by failing to record his vote, was neither kidnapped nor spirited away.

John Jinks will contribute 25,000 men to the harvest this year, it is estimated. Manitoba needs 8,000, and can get 6,000 locally; Saskatchewan asks for 40,000 of which half are available locally, and Alberta needs 35,000 of which 8,000 must come from outside the province. British Columbia has 8,000 available.

The first suggestion that Mr. Jinks had been kidnapped was contained in a dispatch to The Evening Star from his Dublin correspondent, who said that Jinks supported the resolution to vote against the Government adopted at a party caucus recently, was in his place in the hall when an hour before the vote was taken, but then disappeared. Captain William Redmond, leader of the National League Party, was quoted in the Dublin press as saying that Jinks' failure to vote with his colleagues must have resulted from his being spirited away, unless he had been overcome by a sudden illness.

TENSE SITUATION IN CHINA OVER AVIATION POLICY

Shanghai.—In the midst of an increasing chaos in both the military and political situations in the Yangtze Valley, an incident arising out of the forced landing of a British military aeroplane on Chinese territory has developed a tense situation between the Chinese authorities and the British Expeditionary Force here.

Although the particular spot where the plane landed was held by Chinese soldiers and was the Chinese authorities have repeatedly protested against British airmen flying over any and all Chinese territory, whether aided by foreigners who they will or by Chinese forces for maneuvering.

Dr. C. C. Wu, Minister of Foreign Affairs for the Nationalist Government, announced that the Chinese intend to sue the incident for a slowdown in the matter of flights over Chinese territory.

"The British in the eyes of the Chinese and International law are criminals as regards their aviation in China," Dr. Wu said, adding that although the Chinese had not the force to meet British "imperialism" they intended to let the world know that the British were doing so.

The aeroplane incident has resulted in British demands for the return of the wings of the plane, the sale of the machine that a Royal Air Force detachment had not carried off to safety before Chinese troops arrived.

When the Chinese refused to return the wings, Major-General John Dugan, the British commander ordered the railway between Shanghai, Hangchow and Ningbo to be cut south of Soochow Creek and British troops were posted at strategic points round the city, thus reconquering the area held by them during the first few months ago which had followed the capture of Shanghai by the Nationalists.

Alberta Coal For East

Outlook More Favorable For Shipments To Ontario This Fall

Terrence, following a conference between Mayor Foster, President of the Canadian Coal Association of Terrence and Howard Stinchbury, trade representative of Alberta, the outlook here, some optimism for shipments to Terrence and Ontario generally of Alberta coal.

As the railway commission is now considering the question of rates on Alberta coal for shipment to eastern points we have every hope that we are going to get a rate this year," said Mr. Stinchbury. "It is said there is to be a new movement of coal from Alberta to Ontario. The railway board, I expect, will make its findings before the end of the month and the Government will have to take action after that. We feel pretty certain that the finding will be satisfactory. I am hoping that statement on the subject."

New York.—The will of Arthur T. Walker, last of the fortune of $2,000,000, left by the late Arthur T. Walker, leaves the bulk of his $20,000,000 estate to his four sisters and two brothers. The will, which was filed in Brooklyn, also provided a $200,000 bequest to Walker's secretary, E. J. Winkler, and to his wife, who was a native of Chicago. Mr. Walker died in New York last Saturday.

Walker's secretary was bequeathed $200,000. His wife, who died in 1922, left in a codicil dated June 26, 1925, the amount was increased to $200,000.

The secretary was named sole executor without bond. There were numerous bequests ranging from $1,000 to $25,000 to friends.

Used Flashlight When Lighting Plant Failed

New York Operator Forced To Perform Operation Under Difficulties

New York.—Mrs. Violet Moore, of Jersey City, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis performed by the light of an electric flashlight in a hospital during an electric light. The doctor had just administered the anaesthetic when a bolt of lightning extinguished every electric light in the hospital. Dr. Munn, the surgeon, called for some sort of light and Miss Mary Reed, hospital superintendent, found a flashlight. For an hour and a half the surgeon worked under his rays until the operation was completed. Mrs. Moore was taken from the operating room just as the electric light flashed on again.

BRITISH PREMIER TO PAY VISIT TO CANADA AGAIN

Halifax.—"We have loved every minute of our time. We are tired, of course, because we have worked so hard," Premier Baldwin told the citizens of Halifax in his parting address. "I have given every minute of this I could spare to Canada, and when I am through with the duties of my present post I will come again," he said.

The addresses of welcome by the province and by the city were, said Mr. Baldwin, "a record in the history of this country and conducted in a way to warm the heart of an Englishman." The Prime Minister took exception to two words in addresses. Now, Scotland had called his visit a holiday and Halifax called it a festival. He felt as though he might be called a holiday-maker in England in order to get a little rest.

On the claim of illness worn by the mayor was the date 12th.

"I can almost remember that far back," said Mr. Baldwin. "As it is, I do remember that those were the days when I was depressed by the war. Great Britain every passed through. And through those years (the city) stood as a sentinel. It was the one of the first of the kind ever witnessed and it is the spot where it will never be moved on long as the flag flies anywhere. It was here that the Royalists came to take shelter—this magnificent steeple, tried in every fire, which became the parents of this part of the people of today."

"I read with great interest the report of the commission under the chairmanship of Mr. Andrew Ross, the Premier continued. "I read the result of that report with interest because the prosperity of the provinces."

COAST PROVINCE MOURNS PASSING OF AGED PREMIER

Victoria, B.C.—Death, to his friends since he passed a serious operation several months ago, estimated at 80 years of age, and removed from the active political life of British Columbia one of the province's strongest and most cherished leaders. The Premier had been in ill health since he retired from the Mayo Hospital, Rochester, Minn., last spring, but his death came with startling suddenness. The Premier passed away before his doctor, who was hastily summoned could reach his bedside.

Since the middle of July, Premier Oliver had been relieved of the active duties of his office following a campaign of the Liberal members, since March 1918, in his death, Premier Oliver had made many departures in social legislation, land and settlement laws, and improvements to the educational system of the Province.

For the past five years a convalescent leave from his office and away from the political scene, Premier Oliver was directed toward the prosecution of British Columbia's claims for freight rate reductions, and better terms of trade with the United States. A square-built man of enormous strength, he was proud of his blonde hair and blue eyes, and in the last days of his illness he lay in bed in his room in the British Columbia Hotel in Victoria.

A fervent speaker and ready debater, he loved a political argument and was never happier than when exchanging words with some opponent of his life across the floor of the Legislature. He was a man of ready wit and a keen sense of humor, delighting in and applauding any remark directed toward himself from his opponents.

Trade Treaty Signed

France and Germany Come To Agreement On Terms

Paris.—France and Germany have placed their signatures on a commercial treaty, based largely on most favored nation treatment, after three years of frequently interrupted negotiations.

It is a complex arrangement of several hundred clauses, effective September 8. By the treaty France will get better terms on agricultural products, and Germany will get better terms on textiles, iron articles, and porcelain, while Germany will benefit on chemicals, machinery, electrical goods, cement and leather goods. Most favored nation treatment will be applied for both sides by December 15, 1925, at the latest.

France was the first to extend the right to export a limited amount of wines to Germany on favorable terms.

And Now For The Big Harvest

Wheat harvesting has begun in this vicinity, although the movement is far from general as yet. The weather for the past week has been ideal, although rain at some points in the district knocked down the heavy grain causing considerable damage by lodging and tangling the standing crop. Generally speaking, however, the fields have made wonderful strides towards ripening, and cutting should be general by the first of the week.

Combines, binders, threshing machines and other harvest paraphernalia are being prepared for business in every direction one looks and business in the machine line is at its height, in fact it is many years since such extensive preparations were in order.

Half Holiday Is Discontinued

There will be no further Wednesday half holidays this fall as the beginning of harvest and the busy fall season leaves a general inclination to meet every demand from the country without delay.

C. P. R. Crop Report

A beneficial rain fall over the West during the week is reported by the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. All grains are maturing rapidly and cutting has commenced in many points in each Province. Most of the crop is now in the dough stage and another few days should see cutting general all over the west. High average yields are promised in Alberta. Rains have enhanced prospects particularly of later grains. Need now is for warm sunny weather to ripen crops. Operations all over the province will be fairly under way by August 29th. Rains are responsible for some fallen crops. Harvesting of winter rye and wheat cut. Hay is practically over proving an excellent crop. One thousand acres on the south end of the Blood Indian Reserve at Cardston were completely balled out on the night of the 10th.

Now is the time to order your stationery supplies for fall.
